

JUN 15, 2017 @ 12:01 PM

The Little Black Book of Billionaire Secrets

Art Basel 2017 - The VIP Preview Highlights

Today Art Basel, the world's largest and leading art fair, officially opens its gates to the public. This year is the 48th celebration of the annual art fair in its originating city Basel, Switzerland. It is presented by its leading partner, UBS. 291 renowned galleries from 34 countries and six continents present works from early 20th century to contemporary artists.

VIPs, collectors and press are the lucky ones to get access during the two preview days of Art Basel – and so did I. Yesterday I took over the Forbes Snapchat, live at Art Basel, and shared a range of important art works and facts as well as some highlights from inside the fair's luxurious VIP areas and events. Here is the short overview of some hotspots, highlights and art works of this year's Art Basel.

Galerie Gmurzynska

Fireplace mural (untitled), oil on canvas, 1938 by Fernand Léger. The painting was conceived for and in the living room of Nelson A. Rockefeller's apartment, New York. The painting is being offered for the first time, by Galerie Gmurzynska on behalf of MoMa New York.

Fireplace mural (untitled), oil on canvas, 1938 by Fernand Léger. The painting was conceived for and in the living room of Nelson A. Rockefeller's apartment, New York. The painting is being offered for the first time, by Galerie Gmurzynska on behalf of MoMa New York.